

JONAS LONG'S SONS. THE GREAT STORE.

Big Cut in Furniture Prices

Just for a few days to show you the power of low prices in this furniture store we offer:

- Sideboards That Were $12.00 at $9.00
Sideboards That Were 75.00 at 50.00
Bedroom Suits That Were $16.50 at $11.98

Also some tremendous reductions in prices of Rockers, Book Cases and other needfuls in furniture.

Good Time This To Buy a Suit or Coat

Prices are absolutely at bed-rock. Better be there, rather than carry any garments over.

Stock is interesting today—prices are more so.

No store ever showed so complete and attractive a line. Garments that are perfect in style, fine fitting, with every attention given to detail in the workmanship.

Two big windows on Lackawanna avenue show you how hard the price-cutter worked. That's only an inkling of the second floor show.

There can be no further reductions this season. Your ONE opportunity is NOW.

Table with columns: Tailor-Made Suits, Silk Plush Capes, Fancy Boucle Jackets, Tailor-Made Jackets, Black Kersey Capes, Child's Fancy Reefers. Includes 'WERE' and 'NOW' columns.

Soiled Handkerchiefs—Half Price.

There was a rush for them yesterday and it will continue today. Takes time to dispose of 3,000. Not the least bit hurt—just mussed—and at half price.

Table listing various handkerchiefs and their prices, including 'Handkerchiefs that were 60c are now 3c'.

Couldn't think of carrying them over at any price. Hardly enough left worth mentioning, either. A few dolls and wagons, a small lot of iron toys and a dozen or so drums—that's the whole story.

A day's good selling will clean them all out. Will you be here to choose? Lay them away. They'll do to replace the Christmas toys after "baby" breaks them.

Table listing hair brushes and women's gloves with prices.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

The Donovans. At the Academy of Music last night James B. Donovan and Fanny Donovan, assisted by a half dozen vaudeville artists, began a three-day engagement. The farce in which they appear is "Devey's Reception in Me-Padden's Alley." It will be repeated this and tomorrow afternoons and evenings.

English Folly Company. A bright, snappy entertainment is given by the Rose Hill English Folly company, which is at present filling an engagement at the Gaiety. The company opened yesterday afternoon and large audiences saw the afternoon and evening performances. The show begins and is concluded with short burlesques. The opener is called "Round the Town," and all the members of the company appear in it. Many pleasing songs and dances are introduced. The burlesque in "Wicked Wicked" in which the "Zig-Zag Dancers" appear.

Whytals Coming Again. Mr. and Mrs. Russ Whytals, whose admirable efforts in "For Fair Virginia" will be recalled with infinite pleasure, have been given the much coveted New Year's date at the Lyceum theater next Monday, when at both the matinee and evening performances they will present for the first time here their latest positive success, "Vagabondia," a romantic play of the eighteenth century. Mr. and Mrs. Whytals are artists of the best grade, and are especially deserving on account of the excellence of their supporting company, which, by the way, is said to be particularly capable in the presentation of "Vagabondia."

Waite's New Company. Waite's New Stock company will be at the Academy of Music all next week, commencing with a matinee on Monday. The star of Waite's New Stock company is Annie Louise Ames, and James H. Waite believes that in her he can offer the people of this city the best actress that has ever appeared in one of his companies. Scenery, orchestra, specialties, costumes and good plays are the things in which the management takes pride. Annie Louise will hold a reception on the stage for the ladies of this city during her engagement, to which all ladies are invited. No doubt they will take the opportunity of meeting the little woman. In specialties the well-known Elmore Sisters, Miss Rutin and Harry Fielding appear. The repertoire for the week is as follows: "London by Night," "Two Kids," "Lady of Lyons," "Flag of Concluding the performance will be the burlesque, "The Street Fair," furiously funny and frolicsome, introducing the entire company and twenty handsome Amazons. The engagement is for five nights only, with matinee Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review. New York, Dec. 29.—After an early period of hesitancy and irregularity, stocks today resumed their upward movement. In some stocks the advance was large, while in standard shares it was confined to fractions. The trading was broad and there were few laggards in the advance.
